Winter Song.

ing a song of winter-Air so crisp and clear! And joy bells ringing near! Snowflakes lightly falling To warm the buds aslesp, Then a thaw and next a tramp Through mud that's two feet deep!

Sing a song of winter-When the frost is white And the tondlitis germ Seeks you day and night! When the wind is sighing Sadly through the trees; Your furnace isn't working,

And the water pipes will freeze!" Sing a song of winter-Sing it any way:

You've got to have your troubles, There are debts that life must pay, So set 'em to a jingle As you laugh at fate perverse, ing a song of winter.
And be glad it isn't worse!

Seixures made during the last two weeks by Deputy Collector Charles M. Bailey of the customs office at Newport have resulted in quite a saving in revenue to the government. Being informed that wool was being brought from Canada by them, without payment of duty, he took the trail of the smugglers and secured about twelve thousand pounds, the value of which is in the neighborhood of $3,000. The seizures were made along the line of the Boston & Maine railroad, between Newport and St. Johnshury. These transactions dated back as far as May of this year. To ferret out this wool, much of which had passed through the hands of more than two parties, required detective ability of no mean character.
